Overview:

Aspen were engaged by Renascent NSW, working alongside Siren Design to complete joinery and wall panelling for the ASICS Marsden Park project. Involving 4,000sqm of office space and a 1,500sqm retail facility, the project has provided an impressive and functional space for staff and clients like. The ground level of the building is a light filled, relaxing space dedicated to numerous breakout areas as well as a gym and large meeting rooms. An impressive staircase with stadium platform seating connects the two levels whilst providing a collaboration area to the side. Aspen were required to coordinate several high detail finishes as well as working in with other trades to achieve the design intent and keep to the tight schedule. The furniture and joinery caters for a range of working styles and has created a fresh, vibrant environment for the ASICS team.
